You fly three-thousand miles over the Atlantic
You've got jet-lag and your mind's all frantic
Gazing at signs, looking which way to go
But the signs are in a language you don't really know

Finally get yourself to where you're supposed to be
Walk around a bit, amazed at what you see
Yes you're here in France, it aint no lie
And a lot of times you'll wonder why

All the people here seem to talk really funny
They wear tight pants and use monopoly money
How they got their reputation as great lovers is easy to see
It's the only thing to do in France that is relatively free

Cathedrals, museums, foreign movies and plays
Boulangeries, patisseries, boutiques and cafés
Spain's not too far, Italy's a couple of hours
Germany, Switzerland, and castles and towers

And after it's all over, you'll fly back home
With memories of people, and Paris and Rome
But the main thing you'll learn throughout your long stay
Is how good you have it in the U.S. of A.

Chris KING
A special thanks to Yamina and Mr. Morelli for making the publication of this yearbook possible. Your help was greatly appreciated.

Again, many thanks,

La Cigale Staff.
Editors Note:

We would like to apologize to all of our readers and loyal fans for having to cut many of our "grand" ideas. In face of a 3:00, May 14 deadline, the work load proved to be too much. To all the people who packed their brains for quotes in hopes of achieving immortal fame, we offer a hearty "maybe next time". To all the students, professors, and staff not represented on these pages, again we apologize. We tried to get as many pictures as possible - witness Heidi madly snapping pictures on rainy Thursday. Still, we came up short. In the words of T.S. Eliot "This is the way the world ends, not with a bang but a whimper ".
