November 23, 2015

Chers Etudiants,

Nous espérons que vous avez passé un week-end agréable et paisible dans notre belle région. We have quite a few things planned this week and look forward to ending the month of November 2015 together with the IAU community. Travel is obviously not prohibited but do keep in touch with us about how we can get in touch with you every weekend. The US Embassy in Paris updated its advisory on Friday

(see http://france.usembassy.gov/usc_travelinfo.html). Continue to keep up with the news, and we'll do our best to find out everything we can from our network and keep you more informed and ahead of the curve on staying safe and making the most out of your time here. The COP21 climate change summit in Paris has not been cancelled, and Obama has encouraged all world leaders to continue their plans to be there. IAU will be having its own student conference on Friday, December 4 and are pleased to welcome the Chairwoman of the Palestinian Environment Quality Authority, basically the minister of the environment. We hope you can be here for this important event.

Regards,
Leigh Smith
Dean of the College

THANKSGIVING BUFFET

Thursday, 26 November 11am - 3pm

It is that time of the year. Though it is not an official holiday here, we have a caterer preparing an excellent lunch for this Thursday, Thanksgiving day. It will go on over a few hours so that you can come when you are available (and not in class!). Though we'd love to have everyone, we just can't so the lunch is reserved for IAU students and staff. It will take place downstairs at the "Cave des étudiants" (<https://goo.gl/maps/Mu8mKYFpdAs>) adjacent to the Café de l'Archevêché that is on the big square you cross between Manning Hall and the Cathedral.

On the menu:

Roast Turkey

Stuffing

Mashed potatoes or mashed sweet potatoes

Green beans in orange sauce

Butternut squash soup

Cranberry sauce

Bread

Pumpkin Cheesecake

Apple pie
