

IAU FALL TROUBADOUR 6

"Les fausses opinions ressemblent à la fausse monnaie qui est frappée d'abord par de grands coupables, et dépensée ensuite par d'honnêtes gens qui perpétuent le crime sans savoir ce qu'ils font. »

"False opinions are like false money, struck first of all by guilty men and thereafter circulated by honest people who perpetuate the crime without knowing what they are doing."

1821, Joseph de Maistre

Chers Etudiants,

Que se passe-t-il? Comment a-t-on fait pour en arriver là avec un discours politique si grossier et indigne? Parfois on pense que ce n'est qu'aux Etats-Unis que ce niveau d'échange aussi idiot existe. Il ne faut pas s'imaginer qu'ailleurs le niveau est meilleur, bien au contraire. If the US presidential debates have been shameful to some of you, let's not fall into the trap of believing there is some higher discourse in the political landscape in Europe. Hungary is a civilized and cultivated country as well. Take a look at the words coming from their Prime Minister. This Thursday, we'll have the analysis editor from the Financial Times to talk about the level of ignorance perpetrated this past year in Great Britain, the ignorance that led to a public referendum calling to leave the European Union. Indeed, it seems we're surrounded by false opinions. Let's hope we'll all know better than to continue to circulate them.

Passez une excellente semaine,

Leigh Smith

Dean of IAU College
