IAU NAMING AND GIVING OPPORTUNITIES WITH SUGGESTED MINIMUM INVESTMENT

NAMING OPPORTUNITIES

IAU invites individuals, foundations, and corporations who share our commitment to our ideals to play a significant role by naming and endowing key spaces in all three buildings. Interested donors and benefactors should contact Kurt Schick, Dean of Alumni Affairs, at k.schick@iaufrance.org.

Following is a list of naming opportunities with a suggested minimum investment. Note that items in bold already have pledges or a named donor.

Chapelle des Pénitents Bleus, at 2bis, rue du Bon Pasteur, Aix-en-Provence, is a highly visible symbol of the Aixois roots of IAU. Within its walls, generations of American undergraduate students have experienced the learning that gave them their own keys for opening doors to the world.

CUMULATIVE GIVING

The Founders Society is named for Herbert Maza and Evron Kirkpatrick, internationally-minded American political scientists and educators, whose early vision and industry resulted in the founding of the Institute for American Universities. Herbert Maza, former university professor of political science, and Evron Kirkpatrick, Executive Director of the American Political Science Association, joined forces to create the international education institution known as IAU. Donors in the Founders Society are honored in various, special ways to acknowledge their philanthropy, including an engraved plaque bearing their name in the entryway.
